

Preventative Health Reminders

Preventive medicine reminders are sent to patients based on age, sex, and certain elements of the medical history as recorded in our electronic medical record. For patients whose gender identity is different from their legal sex, you may receive reminders appropriate for both sexes. This is to ensure that you receive all reminders that may be appropriate for you given the limitations of the logic in the electronicsystem. If you have questions about why you are receiving one of these reminders, please contact your provider’s office through the messaging feature (Messages>Send a message).
